LONDON, 28th March. Lord Salisbury left town after Saturday's Cabinet council for Windsor Castle, to wait upon the Queen. This sudden and mysterious journey was entirely unexpected in political quarters and gave rise to the rumour that the Ministry had resolved to region. In Downing street the version given is that the Cabinet decided to advise the Queen to proclaim Ireland, pending the discussion in the House of Commons on the Coercion bill. The Tory managers affect believe that Gladstone's speech will encourage resistance to law and bloodshed in Ireland durministerial crisis is imminent.

LONDON, 29th March. In the Commons to-day Mr. Gladstone resumed the debate on the Irish criminal law amendment. He was loudly cheered when he arose. He said that in an issue so grave proposals as made. those now put forth by the Government required ample time for consideration. He found himself bound to support Parnell's amendment, because the ground on which Balfour based the Government's case was absolutely insufficient and unsatisfactory. The Government's bill, instead of being a cure for Irish ills, or even a palliative, was a measure that would aggravate deep-seated disorders. "With this coercion bill," exclaimed Gladstone, "the prospect of conciliation vanishes | into the air. The Government intended to exclude the Land bill, which was the main recommendation of the commission, which just i Trish trouble. POST-OFFICE NOTICES.

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addressee need do is to note on the cover, Sent to --- ; or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to lot such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end.

LOCAL DELIVERY-No delivery is attempted on board Ship, at the Peak, Kowloon, Aberdeen, &c. nor at any privata house (even though named in the address) when there is a place of business nearer, at which delivery can be offected.

The Postal Guide for 1886, revised to date will be found in the Daily Press Directory. Contributory Dividends are payable to all p. 385 large edition, p. 701 small edition. This Postal information published in Hongkong.
